How to search

You can use our solicitor record check [https://www.sra.org.uk/consumers/solicitor-check/] search function to have a look at regulatory decisions that we have made against regulated individuals and firms.

You can search decisions by the

- name of the solicitor, firm, or other regulated individual

- SRA ID number (also known as their roll number)

- date the decision was made, or

- type of decision.

You can also view a list of recently-published decisions [https://www.sra.org.uk/consumers/solicitor-check/recent-decisions/] .

To search for decisions about an individual or firm, enter their name and/or ID number in the search fields. To narrow your search, choose an outcome type and/or specify a date range.

To see all closures (also known as "interventions") during May 2019, for example, leave name and ID fields blank, choose outcome type "closure" and specify the date range 1 May 2019 to 30 May 2019.

Only the most recent published decision against any firm will be displayed. To view a list of all published decisions against an individual made within the past three years (in general decisions are removed after three years), you will have to go into the record.
